

IELTS Speaking exam spot the mistakes IELTS Speaking Parts One and Two

Read through the typical IELTS Speaking Parts One and Two script below and cross out the options in italics that are not good things to say in the exam-

Check your answers as a class.

In groups of three or four, one person reads out the script, choosing between the correct and the wrong options each time. The other people listen without looking at the sheet and stop the person speaking every time they say something you shouldn't say in the test. Score one point for the first person to stop them each time, and minus one point if they stop them when they don't say anything wrong.

Use the script above to help do a practice test.

Do a practice exam one more time, but this time with only the Examiner looking at the script.

Do a practice test one more time, but this time without either person looking at the script.
