

Do you want to Yes I do speaking games want to for future desires and places vocabulary practice

Part One: Want to make me say yes

Try to get a "Yes, I do" answer from your partner with a "Do you want to...?" question like those below. You get one point If they say "Yes", but no points if they say "No, I don't".

Do you want to	buy change cook () do	now today this evening at (o'clock)
	drink () eat ()	tomorrow the day after tomorrow
	fly (to)	onday
	get	this week
	go ing go to	this month this year have	next year
	learn	in 20
	leave listen to make
	meet
	play read ()
	ride
	see
	sleep start study ()
	talk to use
	visit
	watch
	wear

Share one thing that your partner doesn't want to do, and see if anyone else in the class wants to do that.

Ask about anything above you don't understand, couldn't make a question from, etc, working together to ask and answer related questions each time.

Part Two: Wants in different places make me say yes

Play the same game but this time pretending that you are in a different place such as one in the table below. Imagine that it is the same time as it really is now, but that you are not in this room. The person who will answer the questions can choose what place they are in.

l'm	in a sports shop
	in a swimming pool
	in front of a lake
	in front of the (rubbish) bin in front of the kitchen cupboard in front of the fridge
	in front of the whiteboard in front of the window in the airport
	in the bath in the bathroom in the bedroom in the cafeteria
	in the cinema (= in the movie theater) in the dining room
	in the garage
	in the garden
	in the gym
	in the kitchen
	in the library
	in the living room
	in the park
	in the post office
	in the shower
	in the supermarket
	in the zoo
	next to a bus stop
	on a bicycle
	on a farm
	on a mountain
	on a plane
	on a ship
	on a train
	on the beach
	on the sofa
	under a tree

Share your partner's wants in one place and see if the class can guess what the place is.

Ask about anywhere above you couldn't think of questions for, etc, working together to ask and answer suitable "want to" questions each time.