

UK or USA British and American English trivia quiz

Read out just one line from your worksheet and see if your partner can guess if that line is about the UK (the underlined one) or if it's about the USA (the not underlined one). Don't change the wording, as the hint includes both useful facts and English words or expressions from one of those two countries. If your partner's guess is right, they get two points. If they choose to guess, they get no point and their turn ends. If they are not sure or don't understand the hint, they can ask for the other hint in the same section and then guess which one is British and which is American. A correct guess after two hints gets one point. Take turns doing that for your partner and guessing if their sentences are about the UK or USA until your teacher stops you.

Useful language for doing the activity

"I think that it's the UK/ the USA."

"I'm not sure. Can I have the second hint?"

"I think that the first one is American and the second one is British."

Match the UK words on the left with US ones with the same meanings on the right. "..."
means that you need to use words from the one on the left to complete the one on the right.
